Drayton Valleys first annual amateur Klondike Stampede is set for the weekend of July 21-22.

The stampede itself is not scheduled until Saturday afternoon but a variety of other events will get the big weekend underway on Friday, July 21st.

Friday events will start with a raft race at 3 p.m. Trophies are available for this event and entries are still being accepted, at the Treasury Branch and Al's Sport Shop.

Canoes taking part in the Whitewater Race are expected to begin arriving about 5:00 p.m. although low water could slow their progress.

Trophies for the raft race and first canoe into Drayton Valley will be presented at a reception and banquet Friday evening. This event will be held between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. in the Elks Hall under Chamber of Commerce sponsorship.

Also on Friday will be a gymkhana and Queen Contest at 5:00 p.m. Friday events will end with a Klondike Stomp at 9:00 p.m.

A midway sponsored by the Drayton Valley Lions Club will be in operation on the grounds all day Friday and Saturday.

Saturday events start bright and early with a pancake breakfast at 6:30 a.m. followed by the departure of canoes at 9:00 a.m.

The big Klondike Parade is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. and is followed by the cross-country foot race that winds up at the rodeo grounds at Sekura Auctions.

Another feature added this year is the Rotary Clubs' antique and hobby collectors display to be held in the Sekura Auctions building Saturday afternoon.

The stampede gets underway at 1:00 p.m. and the weekend winds up with a Maverick Hoedown at 8:00 p.m.

Rodeo events will include saddle bronc riding, calf roping, wild steer riding, calf riding, bareback bronc riding, wild cow race, greased pig contest, ladies barrel race, business men's challenge, wild cow ride and ladies' steer undecorating.

BOY SAFE

Three-year old Kenny Vanderleest of Drayton Valley was found safe Monday afternoon after being lost in heavy bush country near Hudson Hope, B.C. for over three days.

Kenny's ordeal began Friday afternoon when he wandered away from his father's jeep and was not found until 75½ hours later. He was reported in good condition but suffering from exposure and mosquito bites.

At the height of the search 500 men, helicopters, aircraft and three police dogs scoured the heavily-wooded area about 18 miles northwest of Hudson Hope.

Kenny is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Vanderleest who have lived in Drayton Valley and surrounding area for several years. His grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Pare, also of Drayton valley, travelled to Hudson Hope when they learned he was missing.

Mr. Vanderleest, an employee of Kiss Construction, is working temporarily in the north and his wife and son joined him there only a few days ago.

The boy apparently wandered away from the jeep when his father left him for a few minutes to find a log to pry the jeep out of a mudhole.

RAFT RACE ENTRIES

Anyone interested in taking part in the raft race to be held at 3:00 p.m. Friday afternoon is urged to get an entry in as soon as possible. Entry forms may be obtained at the Treasury Branch or Al's Sport Shop in Drayton Valley.

Students Enjoy Western Visit

Twenty-four young people from Sidney, Nova Scotia spent last week visiting in Drayton Valley and district and according to all reports appeared to enjoy themselves thoroughly during their western trip.

The group was taking part in the Centennial Youth Travel Program that will see a like number from this area leave in August to visit Chicoutimi, Quebec.

The Sidney group arrived here by bus from Calgary and were welcomed at the Centennial Civic Centre by Town Council and representatives of the Centennial Committee. They were billeted in private homes and met their hosts during the luncheon.

During the week they toured points of interest throughout this area of the province and attended a number of social events.

They were feted on Wednesday at a barbecued steak dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLean who staged the event as a personal Centennial project.

The group left Drayton Valley Saturday morning to return by bus to Calgary and the train trip home.

Another treat awaited them in Calgary when former Drayton Valley residents Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Moore took them to the Stampede.

39 U.F.O.s Reported

Up to Monday of this week 39 of 91 D.V.U.F.O.s released at Drayton Valley on June 20 had been recovered at points on the North Saskatchewan River between here and Edmonton.

Released as a Centennial Project the D.V.U.F.O.s are water-tight plastic bottles containing a message to contact the Drayton Valley committee in charge of the event. Prizes are awarded for finding the bottles.

The farthest recovered to date came from Edmonton, although another was sighted from a ferry in the Redwater district.

The committee feels that some should be in Saskatchewan by this time but also notes that low water could be slowing their progress.

A progress chart of the D.V.U.F.O.s travels will be posted on the town bulletin board sometime next week.

Dry Weather Increases Forest Fire Hazard

The Alberta Forest Service at Lodgepole reports that the long dry spell is becoming very apparent in the forest region west of Drayton Valley.

The fire hazard Tuesday is listed as high but will be extreme by this weekend if no rain occurs. Ten fires started by lightning are presently burning in the district.

The Forestry service reports that rivers and the Brazeau reservoir are low and many smaller creeks have dried up. Roads in the area are good but fishing is reported as poor.

INFORMATION OFFICE

An information office will be in operation for the balance of the week in Mayhew Motors with details of Klondike weekend activities for anyone seeking additional information.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS EDITH DEBY

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Guze on the occasion of the arrival of their chosen son, Lenard Neil, a brother for Sandra and Dale. Lenard is a bonnie baby and Otto says to tell you that his new son is anxious to get acquainted.

Mrs. Mary Ann Dahlgren, one of the young ladies who wait on us so politely at Block's Store, had the misfortune to lose her watch in a bag of groceries she was packing on Saturday. Mary Ann has a sentimental attachment for the watch and can only hope that the person finding it in her grocery bag will be kind enough to return it.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bierkos will soon be moving back to Drayton Valley to live. Mrs. Bierkos is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Durham.

Miss Maureen Austin, of Vancouver, is visiting her grandmother and aunt, Mrs. A. and Miss Louise Boufford. Miss Austin works for the city of Vancouver as an I.B.M. operator.

Lester Miller is away for a visit with nieces at Onoway and Magnolia.

Mrs. Cecil Wall was a Drayton Valley visitor last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Srottyr and Betty Lou, of Chicago, have been visiting Mrs. Srottyr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dunington, for the past ten days.

Mrs. James Kay, Helen and Jamie, were in Drayton Valley for a few hours last week. The Kays have been in Libya until recently—in fact Mr. Kay is still there—but families have been asked to leave because of the political unrest. Helen and Jamie will attend school in Vancouver next year but the senior Kay's plans are indefinite as yet.

Dr. Lewis' father, a doctor also, arrived from England last Friday, for a month's visit. This week the Lewis family and their guest will take their new holiday trailer and move out to Wood's Lake, not far from Kelowna, for a fortnight.

Was so very pleased to receive a letter from Mrs. Andrew Johnson last week. The Johnsons have bought an acreage at Vernon. They have planted two and one half acres of grapes and also have corn and cucumbers. In addition to this both Thelma and Andrew hold down full time jobs so you can see they have no time to be lonesome for Drayton Valley if they wanted to do so.

Thelma sent me a clipping from the Vernon News entitled "Fiddling Grandma Takes Contest Spotlight" and there was a picture of Mrs. Margaret Watson, of Burns Lake, formerly of the Violet Grove district. I'll carry the clipping in my purse for anyone to see who is interested.

Dr. and Mrs. Waugh are away for a three week jaunt on the Alaska Highway. During their absence Mrs. Waugh Sr. will be in charge at the Waugh residence.

Cross Country Race Saturday

A feature of Klondike celebrations this weekend will be the annual road race covering a distance of 4.8 miles.

The race will start between 12 and 12:15 p.m. following the parade. About 12 entries have already been received and others are welcome.

The regular trophies offered last year will again be presented and this year another trophy will be awarded to the first runner under 15 to cross the finish line.

The race will start at the Drayton Valley Hotel with the route as follows: run one block south, turn west at the Post Office for two blocks, then east one block, then west to main highway, then south and follow highway for approximately three miles, then north one mile to finish at Sekura Auction grounds.

Former Residents Visit Drayton

Reverend Albion Wright, accompanied by his wife Freda and their three children Karen, Deanna and Darrel, paid a visit to the Harry Zolmers in Drayton Valley recently, while en route from Toronto to Vancouver.

Albion will be remembered by many for his five year stay in Drayton Valley as minister of the Drayton Valley United Church. He is at present in the process of moving with his family to Richmond Hill, Ontario where he has been appointed director of Cedar Glen, the Toronto Camp and Conference Centre of the United Church.

Cadets Enjoy Trip To Quebec Camp

Air Cadet Sergeants Kaarsmaker and Cameron arrived in Montreal recently after about five hours flying time. They write that they couldn't see much of Manitoba, Ontario or part of Quebec because of cloud cover.

They were transported to St. Jean about 20 miles from Montreal where they were issued summer clothes and bedding.

In the barracks in which they are sleeping, there are eighteen cadets per room, nine French-Canadians, and the other nine from some of the other English speaking provinces. They have toured Expo for two days, Ottawa and Quebec City each for a day, and Montreal for a half day. They are, when not touring, taking drill, strenuous calisthenics, language courses, or just having fun on the base.

The boys will be home this Saturday.

Young Farmers On Trip to East

Twenty-four of the 28,000 young people participating in the Centennial Commission's Voluntary Youth Travel Program are a group of young Alberta farming people. They are taking part in the Alberta Agricultural Centennial Youth Travel project, organized by the Federation of Agriculture with the financial assistance of a Centennial Commission grant.

The travel program for the Alberta group has been arranged in co-operation with the Quebec Farmers' Association, Macdonald College, Montreal, and the Ontario Rural Learning Association.

The group left Edmonton July 19 for Montreal where they join groups from Ontario and Quebec at Macdonald College. They will visit Expo '67 on "Alberta Day", July 22, spending a total of three days in Montreal.

This will be followed by a tour of five or six farms in Quebec Province, including a three-day visit in farm homes.

The group returns via Toronto to Alberta, August 9.

The Quebec Farmers' Association sent a group of twelve young people to Alberta in exchange. They arrived in Red Deer July 5 and attended the F.U.A. Junior Annual Meet at the Gold Eye Camp west of Rocky Mountain House.

The Youth Travel Program for Voluntary Agencies is a program sponsored by the Centennial Commission to foster among young Canadians a greater awareness of the significance of the Centennial of Confederation, a great understanding of the people of regions other than their own, and a greater appreciation of their country and its achievements.

The Program provides financial assistance to voluntary agencies organizing travel and exchange projects for young people which make a positive contribution to the celebration of Canada's Centennial.

Among the participants in the travel project is Dale Mastre of Edmonton, formerly of Drayton Valley. Also attending from this area are Judy Johnson of Wildwood and Barry Dunn of Winfield.

Must Apply For Discounts

Drayton Valley residents are reminded that they must file applications to qualify for the Provincial Government home owner's tax discount.

Applications are to be filed at the Town Office. If you don't have the necessary forms, ask for them there.

Secretary-Treasurer, Bill Johanneson stated that some home owner discounts are still outstanding from 1966 because of failure by residents to make application.

The Battle of Batoche 1885

In 1884 Louis Riel was persuaded to return from exile in the U.S. where he was teaching in Montana, to champion the cause of the pioneer white settlers, Metis and Indians once again, this time in Saskatchewan. At first he tried to uphold their interest by constitutional means against federal government encroachment, but to no avail. The building of the CPR across the prairies would inevitably break the transportation monopoly of the Metis Red River carts; and it brought land speculators and new settlers who threatened to wipe out the peaceful community farm system they had established along the river banks. The federal government failed to grasp the urgency of these worries, which were intensified by the fact that the buffalo, on which the Metis had depended for a nomadic living, had disappeared from the plains; the Metis farms had become their only way of surviving.

Riel set up a rebel provisional government at Batoche, on the South Saskatchewan. If Riel had given his brilliant general, Gabriel Dumont, who was a hero of the great buffalo hunts, a free hand to lead guerilla harassment of the militia on their long trek from the end of the railway toward Batoche, history might have taken a different course. But Dumont's forces were held in check.

A detachment of North West Mounted Police sent to nip the rebellion in the bud was defeated by Dumont's Metis at Duck Lake on March 26. A trial of strength became inevitable and was complicated by Indian uprisings against the N.W.M.P. Eventually Riel, Dumont and Cree Indians under Big Bear and Poundmaker fought a series of brave and brilliant battles against greatly superior federal arms. The outnumbered rebels finally met defeat at Batoche on May 12.

Riel was captured, found guilty of high treason, and hanged in the police barracks at Regina in November, 1885. Eight Indian leaders were also hanged; Poundmaker and Big Bear were jailed for three years and died broken in spirit. Dumont fled to Montana, starred in wild west shows, and was eventually allowed to return to Batoche, where he married a Scottish half-breed, and lived out his life peacefully.

CHECK LIST OF WAYS TO AVOID MAKING A DECISION -- Bill Forbes, editor of Canadian Printer & Publisher, comments that there's nothing drearier than the fellow who can't or won't make up his mind, or who opposes every attempt to get on with things. (Forbes carefully avoids including women in this discussion.) "Next time you run into one of these," says Editor Forbes, "hand him this list and tell him you're on to his indolent reluctance." Here's Forbes' 30 ways to avoid making a decision:

1. We tried that before
2. We've never done it before
3. I know a guy who tried it
4. We've always done it this way
5. Too radical a change
6. Why change? It's still working
7. We did all right without it
8. It's too much trouble
9. Our place is different
10. I lack the authority
11. Management wouldn't go for it
12. The men won't buy it
13. The union will scream
14. Customers won't like it
15. We don't have the time
16. Not enough help
17. It costs too much
18. It would run up overhead
19. Not in the budget
20. Not ready for it
21. Put it in writing
22. We should test it first
23. A committee should study it
24. Give it more thought
25. Let's sleep on it
26. Shelve it for now
27. You're right but...
28. Good thought, but impractical
29. It can't be done
30. I think it's impossible

Still Leaving The Farm

Nearly half of Canada's population live in 19 metropolitan areas and 65% of all Canadians live in an urban area, according to recent population statistics reported by Maurice Cutler, business news editor for Maclean-Hunter in Ottawa. The mushrooming growth of urban areas, says Cutler, is revealed in 1966 census figures being issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Fully 47% of Canada's population now live within the boundaries of the 19 centres, he reports, compared with 46% in 1961. During this five-year period, 73% of the metropolitan growth occurred in the suburbs. The 19 metro areas continue to grow faster than the rest of Canada. Their total population increased by 15% in the 1961-1966 period, compared to 5% for the rest of the country. They accounted for 71% of the gain in Canada's population during this five-year period.

A total of 13 million people or over 65% of all Canadians live in urban areas with population of 5,000 and over. In 1961, 11 1/4 million or 62% lived in centres of this size. The number of urban areas has also grown from 306 to 325.

A dress should be tight enough to show there is a woman inside it and loose enough to show she is a lady.

ALBERTA HEALTH PLAN

Dominion Day Holiday Success at Evansburg

By Mrs. M. Bruner

The residents of this village and district are busy relaxing and enjoying themselves after the biggest little weekend the area has had in many, many years. This, of course, refers to the 1st of July weekend and the visit of the Centennial Caravan to our village. Many hours of planning and preparation had gone into the visit of this caravan to the area and it is gratifying to know that those who worked so hard at it were able to see the results of the hard work they put into it.

To begin with, the village, especially the parade route, was gaily decorated with flags and pennants. Careful planning went into the arrangements of booths and concessions on the school grounds as well.

After a very enjoyable parade, from the spectators point of view, the focal point of activities centered at the Evansview school grounds where the caravan was officially opened by M.L.A. Bill Switzer. From then on, more and more people came to enjoy themselves and see the exhibits in the caravan. The official count of caravan visitors was 5680. This being one of the biggest crowds to visit the caravan in a one day stand in Alberta.

A main attraction of the day was the section devoted to oldtimers. This was in the form of an open house in the school auditorium. There the old timers could come and visit and also view the array of snapshots that had been gathered from the old time residents and review our area's history. Here, too, our pioneers could register so they could be presented with a certificate in appreciation of their pioneer work. Three different colored seals denoted the length of stay of the pioneers in the area.

For those who had pioneered fifty years or more a gold seal was given; forty years to forty nine years, a red seal; thirty to thirty nine years, a blue seal. Altogether 244 gold seals were given, 173 red seals and 110 blue seals. Since the committee had not anticipated there were so many old timers coming and getting their certificates, some 200 more of them will have to be mailed.

People came from such points as Wainwright, Seattle, Mission City, Lethbridge, Duncan, Milk River and even as far as Altona, Iowa. People whose names are now not very familiar since they have been away for some years and who came for the big reunion were De Waals, Purins, Kittigouchies and many, many more whose names are in a guest book but whom I can't remember.

In the afternoon a stage show with varying talent from district points took place on the caravan stage and also a gymkhana was held. Toward evening a barbecue took place at the gymkhana ground and in the evening a teen dance was held in the High School auditorium while the older folks enjoyed themselves at a social evening at the Legion Hall. To close off the day a display of fireworks could be seen lighting up the sky over the whole village.

Evansburg, and all those connected with the planning can be very proud of the wonderful day when Canada's birthday was celebrated.

Extend Thanks

The Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce wishes to extend thanks to all those who helped in any way during the dinner served by the Chamber on the 4-H Achievement Day July 4th.

Lariat Members Enjoy Trail Ride

The trails out west of Lodgepole were invaded Saturday July 15th by 11 members of the Lariat Gymkhana Club. Except for the usual mishaps which occur every day such as forgetting a halter at the lunch stop and a horse breaking through an old rotten muskeg bridge the day was thoroughly enjoyed by all the riders. Thanks to Lawrence Sharkey for the use of his truck to get some of the horses out to the unloading spot. Dinner of beans and weiner buns (weiners were forgotten as something always is) was enjoyed by the crew beside the Pembina River. Later in the day when everyone was tired and hungry, the horses were trucked out and taken care of before the riders had a weiner roast, complete this time with weiners at the Schmidts.

We are pleased to see our Forestry Department is ready for action when their tower man spotted the smudge we made for our horses at one stop point.

To Show Calf in Edmonton

A big day for the Lobstick Beef 4-H Club took place on the 4th of July when the members took their calves to the Drayton Valley Auction Mart for judging and selling.

Due to unfortunate circumstances, only eight of the members were able to bring and show calves. However, those who did show brought their share of the awards home. Terry Kremenik won the club championship with his calf and went on to win the interclub grand championship with it. Terry also won the club showmanship and went on to win the 2nd place showmanship in the interclub competition. Danny Szutiak took reserve championship in the club with his animal and Ted Bruner took reserve showmanship.

After judging, the calves were sold by public auction and brought a very satisfactory price. The grand champion bringing a price of 44¢ per pound. The town of Drayton Valley bought the grand champion again this year. However, Terry will now take his (or does it belong to Drayton Valley?) calf to the Edmonton Exhibition to compete with calves from various points for a $1000 prize. We all wish Terry luck.

The members would like to extend, through this news item, their very sincere thanks to Sekura Auctions.
